Identifying Management-Level Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

Executive Core Competencies (ECCs)

- ECC One: Leading Change
- ECC Two: Leading People
- ECC Three: Results Driven
- ECC Four: Business Acumen
- ECC Five: Building Coalitions/Communications

Executive Core Competency One: Leading Change

This qualification encompasses the ability to develop and implement an organizational vision that integrates program goals, priorities, values and other factors. Inherent in leading change is the ability to balance change and continuity - to continually strive to improve performance within the basic mandated framework of the department or organization. This includes creating a work environment that encourages "thinking outside the box", while maintaining focus, intensity and persistence even under adverse circumstances.

Key Characteristics:

- Exercises leadership and motivates others to incorporate vision, strategic planning and quality improvement and assurance programs into all of the department's/organization's activities.
- Encourages creative thinking and innovation as well as influencing others to adopt a spirit of service through leading by example.
- Designs and implements new programs and processes.
- Identifies key issues that affect the department or organization (including political, economic/budgetary, social, technological and administrative factors) and integrating these key issues into the design and implementation of new programs and processes.
- Understands the role and relationships of State Statutes and County Ordinances/ Policies and Procedures in the policy making and program implementation process and formulates effective strategies to balance those requirements with the interests of stakeholders to ensure that the decided-upon strategies are consistent with the mission of the County and the responsibilities/State mandated requirements of the department.
- Embraces change and new information while tolerating ambiguity; adapting behavior and work methods in response to new information, changing conditions or unexpected obstacles; rapidly adjusting to unforeseen circumstances that require immediate attention and resolution.
- Deals effectively with pressure while maintaining focus and intensity; remaining persistent under adversity and recovering quickly from setbacks.
